

Vacancies

Due to the resignation of the current post holder, the Meppershall Messenger, the village magazine for Meppershall, has vacancies for the following two roles:-

Advertising Manager

To develop and maintain good relationships with advertisers who support the magazine with advertising, obtain advertising copy, agree amendments periodically to adverts with advertisers and prepare advertising copy for each magazine and eventually to assume complete control of the development and maintenance of the advertisements section of the Meppershall Messenger.

Distribution Manager

To obtain and organise voluntary assistance for the distribution of the printed magazine within Meppershall and a small number outside the village by post and to prepare distribution bundles of the magazine periodically at collating sessions throughout the year.

Support is available for both roles from experienced assistants. You would enjoy complete freedom to determine how best to manage the role and would participate in the Meppershall Messenger (Magazine Committee) on an ad hoc basis.
